DETAILED ACTION

- 1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 07/18/2007 has been entered.
- 2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 3. Claims 1-5, 8-23 and 26-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stewart ('878) in view of Carter et al ('896).

Stewart discloses a motor vehicle assembly comprising at least one mirror system for providing a rearward view to the operator of the motor vehicle, the mirror system comprising a reflective element assembly (90) including a reflective surface (96) for providing a reflection image, and a mounting panel (92, 98) having a mirror plate (92) for mounting the reflective surface thereto; a mounting bracket (104, 112) for mounting the reflective element assembly to the motor vehicle; and an interlocking fastener assembly (100,102) for removably attaching the reflective element assembly to the mounting bracket comprising a first array of interlocking fasteners (100) attached to and extend away from one of the reflective element assembly and the mounting bracket and a second array of interlocking fasteners (102) attached to and extending away from the other of the reflective element assembly and the mounting bracket, and configured to interlock with the first array and to secure said one of the reflective element assembly and the mounting bracket to the other of the reflective element assembly, wherein the mounting bracket comprises a swivel connection (32, 114), which serves as a tilting mechanism, for selectively adjusting the reflective element assembly, wherein the second array is attached to and extend away from the mounting panel/mirror plate, wherein the first and second arrays are attached and detachable without the use of separate fasteners, note Fig. 7 along with the associated description thereof, except for explicitly stating that the interlocking fasteners of the first and second arrays have an identical configuration, wherein the first and second arrays includes a regularly-spaced plurality of fastening elements, wherein each fastening element comprises an elongated cylindrical shaft terminating in an expanded, mushroom-shaped head.

Carter et al teaches it is well known to use interlocking fasteners including first and second arrays having identical configurations, wherein the first and second arrays includes a regularly-spaced plurality of fastening elements, wherein each fastening element comprises an elongated cylindrical shaft terminating in an expanded, mushroom-shaped head, note Fig. 3B, in analogous art for the purpose of attaching one element to another.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the interlocking fastener assembly of Stewart to include a similar interlocking assembly including first and second arrays having identical configurations, wherein the first and second arrays includes a regularly-spaced plurality of fastening elements, wherein each fastening element comprises an elongated cylindrical shaft terminating in an expanded, mushroom-shaped head, as taught by Carter et al, in order to similarly attach said reflective element assembly to said mounting bracket.

As to the limitations of claims 2-5 and 20-23, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify to mounting panel of Stewart to include a plastic material of a synthetic resin, a thermoplastic material or gas-injected plastic material having a plurality of microscopic voids, as is well known in the art, in order to provide a light weight mounting panel, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use and purpose of obtaining a degree of resiliency. Note In re Leskin, 125 USPQ 416.

As to the limitations of claims 8-11, 14, 15, 17, 26-29, 32, 33 and 35, it is well known to use tilt actuators for vertically and horizontally tilting of a reflective element assembly in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of providing an adjustment of a rearward field of view.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the tilting mechanism of Stewart to include an automatic tilt actuator for vertically and horizontally tilting the reflective element assembly, as is commonly used and employed in the mirror art, in order to similarly adjust a rearward field of view so accommodate for different size drivers, since it has been held that broadly providing mechanical or automatic means to replace manual activity which has accomplished the same result involves only routine skill in the art. Note In re Venner, 120 USPQ 192.

4. The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because the filing date of application 60/319,688 is incorrect. The proper filing date is 11/12/2002.
